REEVE MOGG SAYS PRESENT TAX RATE CAN BE MAINTAINED

If All Citizens Co-Operate Not Necessary To Advance Rate, States Reeve — Position Of Town Better Than In Previous Year — Reviews Standing Of Municipality Of Grimsby.

Reeve Mogg has favored the independent with the following review of the financial position of the town which indicates that the co-operation of the ratepayers the council anticipates being able to finance so that it will not be necessary to advance the tax rate for the current year. The statement which is prompted by a report appearing in the city press forecasting an increased tax rate for the year, will be read with interest by the ratepayers.

"Mr. Charles Palmer, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Grimsby Town Council which comprises the entire membership of that body, called the members to a special meeting on Monday evening to consider the financial standing of the Town and to plan expenditures for the balance of the year.

"The members of the council expressed some surprise that advance information in the city press forecasted a general increase of the tax rate for 1935. Chairman Palmer stated that the tax rate had not been mentioned and that the rate cannot be struck before August as the assessment rolls have not been completed. The Court of Revision to hear appeals will have to meet and that the earliest possible time to strike the rate would be in the early part of August which has been the customary time for years past. He did not know who was the authority for the articles appearing in the city press that a general increase in the mill rate was decided.

"The Auditor's Report was submitted to the Council some days ago and each member had an opportunity to go over the same in the quiet of his own home and to study the standing. All members voiced their opinion that the standing of the Town's affairs at the end of the year was slightly better than in the previous year.

"The cost of widening the Grimsby mountain road last year prevented the Council from balancing expenditures with revenue, expenditures exceeding revenue by slightly over $1,200.00, which indicates close financing on the part of the 1934 council.

"The mounting list of unpaid taxes constitutes the biggest problem for the council today as the taxpayers' ability to pay has been lowered owing to the continued economic conditions throughout the world. Yet on the other hand continues the relief demands from those who, thru unforeseen misfortune, find themselves forced.

Would Retain Beauty Of Mountainside From Niagara To Hamilton.

An ambitious project looking to the preservation of wild life, the native trees and flowers of the district and the beauty of the mountainside is being launched by those interested in retaining the last of the forest and woods in the Niagara Peninsula. It is hoped that eventually this area will become a Crown Game Preserve extending from the Niagara River to Hamilton and ultimately become a provincial park. Those interested in the project see it the fulfillment of the scheme the means of preserving a magnificent background of trees and mountainside as part of the beautiful and inviting panorama stretching across one of Canada's main gateways.

The proposal is meeting with considerable favour in the district and while all the property on the mountainside in the Grimsby and North Grimsby territory is privately owned it is believed the owners would favorably consider the project.

Reeve J. E. Lawson of the Township of North Grimsby, referring to the project, said he thought that from a ratepayer's standpoint a crown game preserve would be a fine thing and he expressed himself as willing to co-operate in any way. He stated that as it is now, the mountainside is being hunted almost daily and the only use the owners make of the property at the present time as he sees it, is to cut down a few trees in the winter time for fuel.

A game preserve was set aside at Beamsville some years ago and at that time an effort was made to carry out a similar project here but the scheme did not materialize.

New Fire Department Agreement Drafted Councils To Decide

A new agreement between the Town of Grimsby and the Township of North Grimsby covering the joint operation of the Fire Department was drafted at a meeting of the joint fire committees of the two municipalities held on Friday evening and it is likely it will be dealt with at the meetings of the two councils to be held this week.

It is understood that the five dollar charge formerly made by the town for each time the fire truck was required to go up the mountain has been eliminated while the charge of $1.00 per hour for the chief's services in connection with fires occurring in the township has been reduced.

The matter of the purchase of a new fire truck which has been under consideration for some time was also the subject of considerable discussion and it is understood will be discussed at the regular meetings of the two councils. While it is recognized that new equipment is much needed the financing of the purchase has so far delayed definite action.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS TO CENTURY CLUB

Co-Operation Is Strongly Urged By Mr. Coombs — Liberal Standard Bearer Stresses Peace.

At a meeting of the Twentieth Century Liberal Club of Grimsby held in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday evening last, A. E. Coombs, Federal candidate for the riding of Lincoln, said the Liberals of Lincoln were endeavoring to promote Liberalism and the freer exchange of goods. He said that Hon. Mackenzie King, the Federal Liberal leader, would speak over the radio following the session of parliament and that all information would be published. "We scarcely know what the individual policy is as yet until Mr. King speaks over the radio."

Mr. Coombs also urged closer co-operation between all peoples. He referred to the tremendous cost of the Great War and emphasized that the very countries which have no armies and no navies are today the most successful. "I want you to push peace; peace in the party; peace in the riding; peace in the home; peace everywhere," Mr. Coombs declared.

John Cavers, St. Ann's, president of the county federal association, was in attendance and spoke briefly.

Mr. Coombs was introduced by the club president, Clifford McCartney.

Mr. Coombs stated that to the best of his knowledge the election would be held in late July or early August.

When Mr. Coombs was addressed as "Scout" Coombs explained the nickname by telling of how he and another St. Catharines man had organized the first Boy Scout troop in Canada in 1918.

New features are in preparation which in addition to the usual ones, will be announced later.

Walter McRae Addresses I.O.D.E. On King George's Jubilee

The April Literary meeting of the Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E. was most interesting and timely when Mr. Walter McRae gave a talk on his Majesty's Silver Jubilee, which the Empire will celebrate on May 6th, this year. Remembering the Golden and Diamond Jubilees of Queen Victoria and now the Silver Jubilee of King George the Fifth, the speaker felt it a privilege to speak on jubilees in general and England's Royal Family in particular. With that rare gift of making any subject interesting and

BLOSSOM WEEK MUCH EARLIER

T. R. Hunter, Fruit Pest Inspector, Reports Wonderful Showing of Blossom Buds — Finds San Jose Scale Has Increased.

Mr. T. R. Hunter, fruit pest inspector for the town of Grimsby and township of North Grimsby, who has been inspecting apple and other orchards of the district the past three weeks, states that San Jose scale has increased in the apple orchards owing to the mild winter and the chief object is to control it. He urges that growers take precautions to spray apple trees thoroughly in order to adequately combat the pest as it multiplies rapidly. The Fruit Act prohibits the sale of apples with scale.

Mr. Hunter also informed The Independent that there is a wonderful showing of blossom buds especially in the peach orchards. The promise is for an unusually fine showing of bloom at blossom time if weather conditions continue favorable and he would not be surprised if Blossom Week occurred around May 1st instead of from about May 10 to 17th as is usually the case, which is considerably earlier than previous years.

"It appears as though we were in for a dry season," said Mr. Hunter. (Con. on page 4)

PROPOSE ADDITION TO BEACH SCHOOL

Would Cost Approximately $4,000 — To Call Ratepayers' Meeting.

It is understood that the trustees of S. S. No. 1, North Grimsby (Grimsby Beach), have under consideration the erection of a brick and cement addition to the Beach school, the dimensions of which would be 21 by 28 feet. The estimated cost of the proposed addition would be approximately $3,000 plus plumbing which includes six toilets and wash basins, etc. or a total of about $4,000.

It is stated that plans are now being prepared and tenders will be requested after which a ratepayers' meeting will be called to discuss the proposal and ratify the same if it is favourably considered. The trustees would then be obliged to approach the township council and request the necessary funds. The outlay, it is understood, would amount to 5 or 6 mills increase on the present rate paid in one year in this school section or 1 mill plus interest per year spread over a period of five or six years. One mill on the tax rate in this school section amounts to $750.00.

It is understood that a plan of altering the inside of the present school has been abandoned for the present.

COUNTY MUSIC FESTIVAL AN OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Stone Quarry Undertaking Was Successful Venture

Operations at the Vinemount Quarry by Grimsby's relief men ceased the end of March and a general checkup of costs shows that the operation was a successful venture.

Fifty-three days were occupied in the setting of plant and crushing with an average of forty yards per day crushed and delivered to Grimsby in various sizes with relief men working in shifts of three days a week.

The men worked willingly and faithfully, each one striving to do his very best to help the municipality and as a result Grimsby has a good supply of road material at a cost of a few cents per yard less than it could be purchased elsewhere and shipped to Grimsby. At the same time it gave work to the men and their money was spent in Grimsby.

COUNTY ROADS IN SPLENDID CONDITION

Two Day Tour Of Inspection Made By Lincoln County Councillors Last Week.

The roads of Lincoln County are in splendid condition. This fact was ascertained on Wednesday and Thursday last as members of the Lincoln County Council made their annual inspection of roads. The county fathers travelled via bus, with Superintendent Frank E. Weir and Road Committee Chairman Stanley Stirling in the observation seat.

On Wednesday the tour was over the roads in the eastern section of the county and with two exceptions these roads were found to have withstood the rigors of the past winter in fine manner. The roads which showed signs of frost damage were the (Continued on page 5)

Competition Was Keen And Renditions Were Of A High Order—Many Compete.

Keen competition and splendid enthusiasm marked the third musical festival held in Westminster Church, St. Catharines on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 2nd and 3rd. Peter Kennedy, of Toronto, adjudicator, passed on some very helpful instructions and suggestions to the many youthful participants who show wonderful possibilities. He stated that it was his hope that the young people of today should never give up their enthusiasm but keep at it as it was only continuous practice which made for perfect performance. The fingers would obey the ruling of the mind if they were trained sufficiently so that eventually the mind and body would be in perfect union.

The boys' harmonica band given during Wednesday afternoon's program won compliment particularly. Here was great opportunity for youthful players to secure a basic training in keeping time and learning tone, he said. The Alexandra school boys' choir presented a splendid rendition of "T. Mermaid." This was entered into with real enthusiasm. The Beamsville high school choir was highly commended and the adjudicator felt that much more choral work by young people of high school age should be undertaken.

The Wednesday evening program was given over largely to solo work by young men 21 yrs. and under, and the open classes for tenor and bass solos. Rural and urban church choirs also presented their work in a very acceptable manner. The large and appreciative audience indicated the interest which they felt. Chairman E. F. Neff announced the gold medalist concert which would be held in the community hall, Beamsville, Wednesday evening April 10th, when many of the gold medalists would present their numbers and at which time the cups, medals, certificates and scholarships (Continued on page 5)

Council Votes to Purchase New Fire Truck with Pumper

Cost Not To Exceed $3,000—New Five Year Agreement Between Town and Township Covering Operation of Fire Dept.—Both To Share Equally In Purchase of All Equipment — Daylight Avenue — Council To Send Letter of Appreciation To Marvin Wentworth, Native-Born Hockey Star On His Achievements — To Put Down Tarvia Roads On Maple Avenue And Nelles Boulevard — Will Commemorate King's Jubilee — Large Expenditures For Relief.

A considerable budget of business was transacted by the Grimsby town council at a meeting at which Mayor McPherson presided.

A resolution was sponsored by Councillor Chivers and Reeve Mogg, that this council is agreeable to the purchasing of a new fire truck with pumper at a cost not to exceed $3,000, to be paid, half by the town and half by the township of North Grimsby and that tenders and recommendations of the joint fire committee be submitted to the council for approval and enabling bylaw to purchase. The motion carried, Councillor Lewis voting nay.

A bylaw was passed under which the Mayor and clerk were authorized to execute an agreement between Grimsby and the township of North Grimsby for the maintenance of the fire company and appliances, equipment and supplies.

Under the agreement which is to be effective for a period of five years it is provided that the former charge of $1.00 per hour for the chief's services at fires be reduced to 75c while the previous charge of $5.00 to the township for the use of the truck when called to fires on the mountainside be eliminated. The council took action in regard to the purchase of a new fire truck which will again be observed in Grimsby, commencing May 5th and terminating Sept. 14th, both days inclusive.

Relief expenditures for the month of March totaled $1806.54 and $760.73 in April to date, accounts being passed for these amounts.

Appreciation of the outstanding performances of Marvin Wentworth, native born hockey star, was expressed and he was commended in the following resolution:

Moved by Councillor Lothian and Reeve Mogg, that this council send a letter of appreciation to our native town son, Marvin Wentworth for the wonderful exhibition of hockey given during the last season and extend also congratulations to his worthy parents who are residents of this town.

Another resolution, introduced by Councillor Lothian and Chivers, read as follows:

That the clerk be instructed to notify the Hamilton Spectator that the claim made in their issue of April 10th, 1935, claiming Marvin Wentworth as a native son is incorrect, Mr. Wentworth having been born and educated in Grimsby and to request their correction of this erroneous report at an early date.

The Mayor and Reeve were named a committee in connection with the observance of the King's Jubilee and to co-operate with the I. O. D. E. Veterans and the township in arranging for an adequate commemoration of the event.

The estimate of the Board of Education of $23,500 for the year 1935 was accepted.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for sale 25 acres, more or less on Fairview Avenue, the advertisement to be given three insertions in the Independent.

Reeve Mogg and Councillor Lothian, moved a resolution that the Board of Works be authorized to construct a tarvia penetration road on Maple Avenue south to Main St. and on Nelles Boulevard from Livingston Ave. South to Main St., using relief labor as far as possible.

A request for a grant to the Band was laid over until Tuesday evening.

Mr. Sanders of the Grimsby Dairy directed the attention of the council to the use of milk bottles belonging to his dairy for coal oil, gasoline and other purposes and suggested that Councillor Lothian, chairman of the police committee, sponsor a bylaw making it an offence for them to be used for such purposes.

TOOTH SHOTS TORONTO DRUGGIST

Wounded In Leg Victim
Grapples With Young
Thug In Hold-Up.

Toronto.—A Summerhill Avenue druggist was shot in his thigh by a 17-year-old bandit Sunday night when he knocked down a gun which was pointed at his chest. The druggist, Albert Marshall, though wounded, grabbed and held his assailant until help arrived. A second youth, aged 16, was captured shortly afterwards.

Less than five minutes after the shot was fired, Albert Elson, 17, of Van Horne Street was arrested in the store. The other lad, Thomas Christie, 16, of MacPherson Avenue, was picked up at his home soon after.

Police state that the two youths rode up to the store on bicycles and as they entered the shop, Elson pulled the gun from his pocket. They both covered their faces with their hands, Elson walked up to the counter, while the other lad stood near the door.

Marshall had always advised his employees to play safe in such an emergency. Faced with it himself he reached out and knocked down the gun. The discharge and the force of the bullet failed to stop him from closing with the youth.

The two rolled on the floor, the wounded druggist keeping a firm hold on the boy bandit despite the wound in his thigh. The glass in a showcase was shattered during the struggle which lasted until Marshall's shouts brought 18-year-old Robert Wilson, 295 Glen Road, into the store. Meanwhile the other youth had made his escape.

Wilson relieved Marshall of his charge and a call was put in for the police.

Almost at the moment that the call was received, Detective Hector Barber, Plainclothesman Clifford Train and P.C. George Crawford were reporting from a call box less than a block away from the store. They were at the scene in less than a minute and had Elson in custody. Elson, police say, tried to put them off the track by giving wrong information about his companion. The officers made a canvass of the homes of suspects and finally picked up their man.

Marshall meanwhile was taken to the General Hospital, in addition to the bullet wound in his thigh he has superficial cuts on his wrist from the show case glass and an injury to his eye. His condition is serious.

Day's Accidents

Take 33 Lives

Toronto.—At least 33 persons were killed Sunday in widely scattered accidents abroad. A racing car plunged into a crowd in Chateaufort, France, killing five and injuring 22, three seriously. In Copenhagen, Denmark, 13 were killed and 50 to 60 injured in a railroad collision. In Bombay, India, a blast in a fireworks factory killed 16 and started a landslide which may have killed and maimed many more.

Ontario to Borrow 60 Million Dollars

Bill To Provide For $20,000,000, Jump In Yearly Financing

Toronto.—Sixty million dollars is the amount stipulated in the province's annual borrowing bill, notice of which has been given to the legislature by Premier and Provincial Treasurer Mitchell F. Hepburn.

Half that sum, Mr. Hepburn stated Sunday night, will be ample to provide for the $14,000,000 deficit which has been forecast for the current fiscal year, and for the bank overdrafts with which the treasury will have to contend. The remaining amount will be used to retire maturing obligations.

For years the annual borrowing of other administrations has been "billed" at $40,000,000.

Horses And More Horses

Dobbin heads back toward Michigan. Reports from the Michigan department of agriculture indicate that the number of horses in the state increased by 4,000 during the last year. That is the first increase noted since 1917. From the year of the beginning of the world war until last year the number of Michigan horses constantly decreased.

But the village smithy beneath the spreading chestnut tree now is a garage and the farm horse is having all sorts of trouble to get his shoes fitted. One of Michigan's leading farmers this Spring reported trying for a week to get an itinerant horseshoer to come to his farm and finally braved the peril of the cement highway to drive his team six miles to a blacksmith shop, only to find no horseshoer.—Detroit News.

CANADIAN YOUTH HELD AS FRIVOLOUS

F. H. Pickel Declares In House They Do As They Like And Are Beyond Control.

Ottawa.—A criticism of Canadian youth was made in the House of Commons last week by F. H. Pickel (Cons., Ontario-Middlesex). He called them undisciplined, thinking only of dancing, sport and social affairs. Prefacing his remarks with the statement he might be considered "childish in my old age," Mr. Pickel said there were two major problems in Canada—the youth and the machine drivers.

"What is going to become of them?" Mr. Pickel asked, referring to Canadian youth. "There is no discipline among them and I would like to know how you can get along with young people without discipline. That is a first requisite."

"There is no home-life today, absolutely none as a general rule. Children go as they please. You tell them to go haw and they go; you tell them to go North and they go South."

Canadian youth, continued Mr. Pickel, focused their attention on dancing, sport and social affairs. Universities had become "athletic recruiting grounds" where the athletic director received more money than professors.

"Look at our newspapers," exclaimed Mr. Pickel, claiming they were "half-filled with sports," with the result the youth read the sport pages and nothing else.

Girls were just as bad as boys in Mr. Pickel's estimation. "One is as bad as the other, you cannot do anything with them."

Petroleum Classified As To Degrees Of Harmfulness

Because the mortality from cancer is high among workers in oil fields and petroleum refineries, the Manchester Cancer Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. C. C. Twort, thought it well to give this matter its close attention.

PRINTING PRESS IN SOVIET AIR LINER

Soviet Russia's major contribution to the advancement of international aviation this year, is the world's largest landplane, the ANT-20.

This forty-two-ton all metal monoplane, named in honor of Maxim Gorki, has a wing spread of approximately 230 feet and a fuselage 109 feet long. The wheels are 6½ feet in diameter and the radius is larger than the wing of an ordinary plane. It is powered with eight engines, developing 7,000 horsepower. Six of the motors are set along the leading edge of the wing and the other two are arranged in tandem above the fuselage. It has a cruising speed of 136 miles per hour and a maximum speed of 148 miles per hour. The normal cruising range is 620 miles, but there are reserve fuel tanks for an additional 620 miles.

Besides its printing press, complete equipment for the taking and developing of sound film its electrical station capable of supplying enough power to light two hundred houses, its searchlight of 2,800,000 candlepower and the first automatic telephone system ever installed in an airplane, it has accommodation for a crew of twenty-three and forty-three passengers.

As the flagship of the Maxim Gorki Agit-Squadron, consisting of twenty-eight planes, it will fly to the remotest parts of the Soviet Union, spreading the gospel of Lenin and aviation.

One of the main features of the Maxim Gorki is its rotary printing press. The total weight of the press together with its motor is only 550 pounds. While the plane is in flight the hourly output of the press is 8,000 leaflets printed on both sides. In connection with the press is a photo-developing room, where pictures are made in flight and developed.

CANADA IS SOLE RADIUM PRODUCER IN BRITISH EMPIRE

King George Jubilee Cancer Fund To Aid In Work Of Combating The Disease.

Ottawa.—Canada is the sole producer of radium in the British Empire. The finding of large deposits of pitchblende or uraninite at Great Bear Lake, N.W.T., which ore is one of the principal sources of radium, is a discovery of major importance in the mineral history of Canada, this not alone because of its economic value, but because radium plays a vital part in the modern treatment of cancer.

The Great Bear Lake deposit was first discovered by Gilbert L. Dine and Charles St. Paul, who flew there on a prospecting expedition in 1920.

Pitchblende has been known to the world since 1727, and was first discovered in Bohemia. It was called pitchblende because of its appearance—a brownish to velvet black color and of pitchy lustre. The radioactive properties of pitchblende are of special interest. It was not until 1789, following Klaproth's analysis, that the discovery was made that it contains the element uranium.

The fact that pitchblende is more strongly radioactive than metallic uranium led to the discovery in it of the elements radium, polonium and actinium. When pitchblende is ignited or dissolved in diluted sulphuric acid, a gas is evolved which consists largely of helium and argon. Terrestrial helium was first recognized in this mineral.

Radium is by far the most valuable, the most rare and the most inaccessible mineral resource of Canada. Hitherto the world's available supply of this precious commodity has been strictly limited; it is estimated at not more than 800 grams. Tens of tons of pitchblende (7,200,000 grams) have to be refined in order to produce one gram of radium! Little wonder that its cost is prohibitive for general use. During the past year radium has sold at $50,000 a gram; at one time it was as high as $70,000. Because of its now recognized value in the treatment of cancer, its excessive cost of production is the more to be deplored. The discovery and development of this potent element in Canada should hasten the time when radium's benefits will be available to all in need thereof.

$40,000,000 Worth Of Property Split Up Among Descendants Of Owner

Corpus Christi, Tex. — The vast King ranch, stretching over an area as large as the State of Delaware has been broken up in a division of $40,000,000 worth of property among descendants of Captain Richard King, Texas revolutionary hero. The baronial ranch here, Santa Gertrudis, and its adjoining property were kept intact, in accordance with a provision of the pioneer's will. It was on the site of Santa Gertrudis that King's first ranch-house and the stockade showed the muskies of the brass cannon to marauding Mexican bandits.

The present home was built by the late Mrs. King at a cost of $200,000. This property went to her daughter, Mrs. Alice Gertrudis Kieberg, together with 30,000 acres in Neches and Kieberg Counties.

After Captain King had built up his vast estate by purchasing blocks of land at five and ten cents an acre, he provided in his will that the Santa Gertrudis property should be kept intact for generations unborn.

Oliver Twist's Workhouse Is Among a Trio to Disappear

London — Three famous landmarks photographed times without number by travellers are to disappear in the next few months. In Southwark, London, the old Mint St. Workhouse; in Prague the Blue Star Hotel, and in St. Albans the market place, have been condemned to removal.

The workhouse is said to be the last surviving building closely associated with the writings of Dickens. It housed the pauper boy Oliver Twist when he asked for "more," scenes within its walls were described by the author with such pathos that British officialdom was forced to bring about reforms. The building was erected 165 years ago. The supposed home of Bill Sykes was also in this neighborhood; it has been replaced by a model tenement.

The Blue Star Hotel is one of the most famous hostels of Europe. There the peace treaty of 1866 was signed, ending the Seven Weeks' War between Prussia and the allied forces of Austria, Bavaria, Saxony, Hanover and minor German States—a war that led toward the unification of Germany under the leadership of Prussia. The hotel register, which contains the names of emperors, of kings, princes and princesses of all the nations of Europe will be preserved.

The removal of the centuries-old market of St. Albans is designed to provide a more pleasing environment for the famous clock tower in the centre of the town. The tower, built in 1410, served for the storage of water, and before the days of telegraphy was equipped with a semaphore that picked up and forwarded messages on the London-Liverpool line. Its famous bell, bearing the inscription, "I have the name of Gabriel sent from Heaven," was cast in Rome in 1530.

When Winter Goes

When winter with a creaking sound
Is leaving roof and rafter,
And down the eaves of sloping ground
Run rills of silver laughter.

When the last snows, like shreds of foam,
Fade ghost-like in their fleetness,
And odors of the loosened loam
Scent all the air with sweetness.

When the trees feel through every vein
The surging sap go singing,
And from the south comes up the rain
That sets the first flowers springing.

When frost is a forgotten barb,
And joy outweighs all sadness,
And slowly earth puts on the garb
Of greenness and of gladness.

Then winter goes, a crownless king,
Lord of a lost creation,
And earth lifts to the airs of spring
The wings of its elation.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE

A nickel isn't supposed to be as good as a dollar, but maybe it goes to church more often. — Regina Leader.

MARIE DRESSLER'S MONEY
It appears Marie Dressler was not the wealthy woman it was thought. She was wealthy in friends, of course, and that was all that mattered to the grand old trouper. As for money, her estate is valued at fewer thousands than it was thought to be in hundreds of thousands. And now there's a fuss in Hollywood over the cost of her funeral. The undertaker was enthused over the necessity of her passing; out in movie magnificence. His bill was $10,000. Her sister, a resident in England, asserts the sum of $2,500 is considered a handsome outlay for the obsequies of a British peer.—Brandon Sun.

HITLER'S BOOK.
Adolf Hitler, the German dictator, has made a fortune out of his book "My Struggle," written while he was a house painter in Munich. Nearly two million copies have been sold. It has been translated into fourteen languages.—Calgary Herald.

WINDOW MODELS.
The casual passer-by at times often looks twice or oftener at models in store windows to make sure that they are not real, but in London, England, the shoppers are soon to see mannequins walking about almost any time. And in the future most of the window-shoppers will be able to do their looking under cover, which is a real advantage, especially when the weather is bad. The shopping centres of London are to be a series of arcades. Mannequins will emerge from the interior of the stores where they are already continuously on display and appear in the windows in place of the present wax figures. Success should immediately attend such an innovation.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

THE MUSICAL NOTE

A military correspondent of the London Morning Post points out that instructions recently issued by the British War Council include the teaching of singing by units as "it helps men to march well even when 'fatigued'." The writer says that he recently saw some troops tramping in drenching rain and their spirits had fallen to zero when a song was started with this chorus: "You never know you've got it till you get it. If you get it don't kick up a row. If anybody is ever going to get it, we've got it now." The effect is recorded as electrical and they stepped out with wonderful elasticity. To which the fact might be added that it is not only military units which respond to a cheery note in time of stress.—Brantford Expositor.

MURDOCH MACLEAN, 104.

We think a word of felicitation is due Mr. Murdoch Maclean of the Moosomin district, who recently marked his 104th birthday anniversary. Mr. Maclean is believed to be Saskatchewan's oldest citizen, and he has been here a great many years. When he settled around Moosomin, that town was just a hamlet of tents.—Regina Leader-Post.

FORBIDDEN TO WOMEN.

The women of China are in revolt. Not the whole 200,000,000 of them, but a sufficiently important proportion to cause considerable trouble to Chiang Kai-Shek, who is something of a dictator in China. And all because someone has undertaken to set out rules to govern the conduct of the ladies. The ladies blame Marshal Chiang and the marshal blames the local mandarins. But whoever may be to blame, it has stirred up a commotion.

And not much wonder when you consider these selections from the things that are forbidden to the women:

To take part in "saked bathing." Dance with men. Smoke. Bare their legs. Work as waitresses. Wear sleeveless frocks. Walk on bare feet. Accompany their husbands to a restaurant. Walk love with their husbands on the sidewalk. Use cosmetics.

It would be interesting if the Soc Council tried to enforce these here. —Sault Ste. Marie Star.

THE "BEST CHANCE"

According to the statisticians ministers' sons have the best chance are given as follows: For a minister's son, one in 20; a physician's son, one in 105; a farmer's son, one in 67; a skilled laborer's son, one in 1,400; and an unskilled laborer's son, one in 45,000.

It looks all right on paper — but how does it work out in practice? — Halifax Herald.

HAVE YOU HEARD

CLUE
He dashed into the police station at mid-night, explaining that his wife had been missing since eight o'clock that morning, and asking that search be made for her.
"Her description," said the sergeant, "Height?"
"I—I don't know!"
"Weight?"
The husband shook his head vaguely.
"Colour of eyes?"
"Er—average, I expect."
"Do you know how she was dressed?"
"I expect she wore her coat and hat. She took the dog with her."
"What kind of dog?"
"Brindle bull terrier, weight fourteen and a half pounds, four dark blotches on his body, shading from grey to white. Round, blackish spot over the left eye, white stub tail, three white legs and right front leg brindle, all but the toes. A small nick in the left ear, a silver link collar with—"
"That'll do!" gasped the sergeant. "We'll find the dog!"

Visitor (to little girl)—And was your grandpa covered with insurance when he died?
Little Girl—No'm; just a night-shirt.

Good judgment must be acquired through experience.

Boss—Why did you leave your last job?
Applicant—I didn't leave it; it left me.

Boss—How could that be?
Applicant—I worked in an ammunition factory and it went up in the night.

Judge—You say you have known the defendant all your life. Now tell the jury whether you think he would be guilty of stealing this money?
Witness—How much was it?

It must be terrible, to live where they have earthquakes and tornadoes—and bridge clubs too.

SPRING'S APPEAL
I like the flowers, birds, and bees. The tender grass and budding trees, I like all springtime, to be sure. But, best of all, the temperate air.

When a man has a birthday, he takes a day off. When a woman has one, she takes a year off.

Boss—I'm surprised at you! Do you know what they do with boys who tell lies?
Office boy—Yes, sir! When they get enough the firm sends them out as salesmen.

Coming home one Sunday afternoon with a string of trout, Robbie was suddenly confronted by the local minister. There was no other way of escape, but the little boy rose to the occasion. Going directly up to the minister, he said: "Minister, do you see what the trout got for nabbit worms on the Sabbath?"

The trouble with giving until it hurts is that so many persons bruise easily.

Teacher—Now what is this a picture of?
Jean—A Monkey.
Teacher—Yes; and what does a monkey do?
Jean—Climbs up a tree.
Teacher—Yes, what else?
Jean—Climbs down again.

A CALL!
Spring to the city comes clamorously in—
"Paint your houses! Clean your yards!"—Campaigning with a din.

Spring to the hillside comes without a word.
The miracles of growth are wrought, and not a sound is heard.
Yet, to the city, where the noise is great,
The silence calls to Spring—flushed hills before it is too late!

It is very well to make a good beginning, but it should never be forgotten that the end is what determines everything.

How quickly the little ones grow up! You no longer get through sitting up with them than you're sitting up for them.

AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF ONTARIO

King George V. Jubilee Cancer Fund Inaugurated

A message to the citizens of Ontario from His Honor, Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor:—
"His Excellency the Governor-General inaugurated recently the King George V. Jubilee Cancer Fund in Canada. The citizens of every Province in this great Dominion are being invited to assist in bringing about the ultimate conquest of a deadly, relentless enemy whose shadow falls across all our lives—CANCER. I need not say how eagerly I seize this opportunity to appeal to the citizens of Ontario to do all they can to make this Jubilee year of His Majesty's accession to the throne forever glorious, forever a year of grace memorable for all time as the year when we all, in massed formation, began a well-planned attack upon cancer—the most elusive, the most secret, and the most inexorably cruel of mankind's enemies.
"The terrible annual toll cancer exacts in this province must be checked. Each year four thousand people die of cancer in Ontario, and for every one that dies there are usually three more who are suffering from this painful, malignant disease. That makes 12,000 cases of cancer

SCOUTING Here There Everywhere

Great preparations are under way in Scouting circles throughout the Dominion for the coming visit of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell. They will arrive in Victoria April 9, and after big rallies of Scouts and Girl Guides at Victoria and Vancouver, will proceed eastward attending similar gatherings at designated centres in the various provinces.

The rally centres and dates for Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec are as follows: Brandon, Thursday, May 2; Winnipeg, Saturday, May 4; Fort William, Wednesday, May 8; Sudbury, Thursday, May 9; Toronto, Saturday, May 11; Ottawa, Tuesday, May 14; Montreal, Friday, May 18; Quebec, Monday, May 27.

Chatham, Ont. Scouts participated in a Rotary Club crippled children's fund campaign by operating a "Lost and Found Bureau" of Rotary members, who had to contribute something to the fund on being "found."

Honorary membership in the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association was conferred upon every Scout and Rover and members of Scouts and Rovers and members of the Fish and Game Association executive, in celebration of the Chief Scout's birthday.

The turning of a game of stalking into the real thing was the unique experience of Scouts of Nelson and Willow Point, B.C. The two troops had combined for a Saturday programme, and were playing a game of stalking through bush, when they discovered a small boy who had been lost.

annually in Ontario. The ratio of deaths from cancer has increased from 70.9 in 1914 to 114.7 in 1932—an increase of 43.9.

"The results obtained today in the treatment of cancer are so very much better than formerly that those who notice a lump or have unusual symptoms should not be deterred from consulting a doctor because of the fear that he will diagnose their case as cancer.

In early cases surgery is still the best form of treatment, either alone or in combination with X-ray and radium. In certain regions, however, X-ray or radium is preferred and good results are obtained. Even in late cases the use of X-ray or radium will relieve pain and delay the inevitable.

The crying need is for more research, more institutions with facilities for the scientist in his great work of investigating the cause of cancer and the discovery of a specific for its cure. There must be a "specific" but the cause of cancer must first be discovered by exact, painstaking medical research. This research will only be possible if we all help to provide the necessary funds. When this fund is established it will enable Canada to take her place with her sister Dominions, thus making the campaign inaugurated in London twelve years ago a truly British Empire Campaign against cancer in its scope.

"However, I should make it clear that all money collected will be spent in this country.

"I appeal to all citizens in this Province to contribute $1.00 or more to the King George V. Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund for Canada.

"Will you please send your contribution direct to Lady Beasborough, who will acknowledge it. Her address is simply, Ottawa, Ontario. The chartered banks are receiving contributions for transmission to Her Excellency as a convenience to the public."

By Rail to Africa Old Tunnel Project

Manchester Guardian
The idea of a Gibraltar tunnel was first conceived by a Frenchman as long ago as 1869. It has been reborn since the war in the mind of a Spanish artillery officer—Colonel Pedro Jevonias, of the Saragossa garrison; and, fostered in its new form both by Primo de Rivera and by the Spanish Republic Government, it has for the past seven years been the object of deliberation by public commission. This commission has just published its latest report. Technical, economic, international—all aspects of the scheme have in turn been considered. Not, indeed, that deliberation is at an end; the technical aspect is to be examined further in the Spring, and the Summer should hear of a definite answer to the question of the tunnel's technical feasibility.

Twenty miles in length, stretching beneath the Straits of Tarrin on GENERAL—MAC—MAR. 28th the Spanish side to Punta Felguera, in Morocco, and plunging at times to a depth of a thousand feet, the tunnel—if it becomes fact—will be the longest and deepest in the world. Perhaps one should use the plural form; for Spanish engineers speak of two contiguous tunnels with intermittent points of communication.

Telegraph and telephone cables would be laid; automobiles would be whisked through on flat cars; and within 30 minutes of leaving the tunnel's Spanish end electric trains would discharge their passengers at the African exit.

The potential commercial importance of the tunnel springs to the eye with Punta Felguera as the focus of a number of African trunk lines, Africa's tropical products would be conveyed to European tables by an all-land route.

Four trunk lines are dreamt of by Spanish enthusiasts of the scheme. Two would traverse the Sahara, one piercing Nigeria to join the nearly completed Cape-Cairo railroad at Stanleyville in the Belgian Congo, the other making its way towards the jungles of West Africa.

The construction of both railways has been started under French direction; their completion awaits

the day when the Bank of France has a governor bold enough and when the French investor is readier to expose his nose to cutting economic winds. There exists a slight doubt, a very slight doubt, as to the willingness of the French to carry the second line to Punta Felguera; they might prefer to make its terminal point at Oran or Algiers.

the day when the Bank of France has a governor bold enough and when the French investor is readier to expose his nose to cutting economic winds. There exists a slight doubt, a very slight doubt, as to the willingness of the French to carry the second line to Punta Felguera; they might prefer to make its terminal point at Oran or Algiers.

The third line, a continuation of the present rail route from Tangiers to Marrakesh, would skirt the Atlantic seaboard as far as Dakar, in Senegal. Aviation has already given Dakar geographical dignity; it is the starting point both of the German air mail and of the French air and ship mail services to South America. The fourth line, brushing the Mediterranean coast line, would prolong the French railway which now comes to a humiliatingly abrupt stop at Italy's colony of Tripolitania.

Such, then, is the vision; how possible is its realization? Economic means and technical possibility are questions that await final pronouncement. Apart from them there is that small but annoying difficulty of the seven-inch difference between the Spanish and French railway gauges. Alteration of the present Spanish track would be too costly; the construction of a new trunk route in Spain is impracticable.

What, then, can be done? Container cars might solve the problem offered by freight traffic, and there are not lacking systems permitting passenger trains to be adapted to varying gauges. Perhaps one of them will enable this subsidiary difficulty to be overcome.

What, lastly, of the international consequences of a realized Gibraltar tunnel? To Britain a British-controlled Gibraltar would acquire a new significance. To France, French colonies in Africa would be of enhanced military importance; black troops could be rushed across to Europe in a matter of hours. Spain herself would recover a meed of long-lost European prestige.

But glory has its price. Spain has liked to remain aloof from European troubles; she might still wish to do so; but a neutral Spain possessed of a Gibraltar tunnel would be a passive ally of France. Are Spanish "tunnel enthusiasts" to be checked by the thought?

The home merchant. Who is he? He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind the guarantee and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meets you at his door with a handshake and let you out with a message to the "kids" and a real come-again goodbye.

He is the chap who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employees live in your town and spend their money with you and other home people.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support home schools and build your town streets, and maintain the fire department, the police department and lighting service.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombstones, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbour—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Don't you know that every dollar you send out of your town for merchandise is sent to strangers—to the men who never spend a dollar there to men who would not trust you for a box of matches.

ed to ask for relief. Grimsby's relief costs have been doubled during the present year in comparison with the same period in 1934. Such problems make the life of the Council a very worrisome one.

"The Taxpayers have, during the depression years, been very loyal and in many cases great sacrifices have been made in order to meet tax payments. The Council have cut the operating expenses to the bone wherever possible and the Town has, as a result, been able to pay its debenture debts and to hold steady. A continuance of this co-operation between the Taxpayer and the Council will carry the Town over its financial hump to better days ahead.

"In 1937 debenture debt reduction will be the order of the day and as a result a long-looked for reduction in the mill rate will follow. At present some small debentures have been paid but their effect will not be felt as the Council wishes to reduce its indebtedness to the bank and to the County of Lincoln. In the case of the latter the Town has been a year behind in paying its county rate since 1919. Some provision should have been made in boom years to catch up on this item. As a result this item has cost the town many thousands of dollars in interest during the passing years and at the moment is causing considerable trouble. With Educational matters of the town, some retiring fund will have to be set up in order to catch up on the County payments and to escape interest charges.

"From a general opinion gathered from Members of the Council, Grimsby is in very good shape in comparison with many other towns and if the especially history as viewed by a literary mind. Mr. McRaye reviewed England's history under the 29 sovereigns since the Norman conquest. While other Kingdoms have fallen, and kings, good and bad, pass, it is a matter of great pride that Britain still is Britain. The idea of the "divine right of kings" is passed and King George is king by the wish of the people. He has endeared himself to his people through twenty-five years of war, depression and uncertainty. The whole Royal family have at all times manifested a sincere interest in the welfare of all classes of people. The very human side of King George is shown in his expressed desire that his jubilee be celebrated simply, with dignity and thanksgiving; gifts to His Majesty are to take the form of funds to relieve human suffering. In Canada this fund is the Cancer fund. The speaker closed by paying tribute to the souls who have contributed to the nation's greatness. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker. A ladies chorus sang "Rule Britannia" and Misses Virginia Hewson and Jane Corey entertained with a vocal duet and a tap dance. Mr. Hugh Liddle also sang. At the next meeting of the Bridge Club which will be on Monday, April 15th, at 2.45 p.m., the hostesses will be Mrs. Wolfenden and Mrs. R. H. Hughes. Mrs. Wolfenden is being congratulated on once again being elected a Provincial Councillor in the I.O.D.E. at the annual meeting held in Hamilton last week.

MEN'S CLUB
CLOSES SEASON

Hamilton. His address, "Success, Physical and Moral," gave his hearers much to think about. He said that in his twenty-four years of police service many people had asked, "what made thieves, robbers or even murderers?" This, he said, he could not answer. The most important thought he left with the audience was that each individual could check up on his diet and system and also just take the time to check up on his thoughts and mentality to see if there might be any criminal intent. He brought home to his hearers that success can only come to each individual by such rigid checking of themselves.

Those participating in the program were Mr. and Mrs. McBrein, Mrs. Richardson, Harry Banks, H. Miller, G. G. Bourne, Wm. Lothian, Hugh Liddle and Vern Croft.

The first president, Geo. Marr, moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

The luncheon served brought to a close another very successful evening.

"There is no water in the field drains and although we had considerable snow and rain the frost prevented the moisture from penetrating the ground with the result that the moisture on top of the ground was quickly absorbed. We need rain badly, none having fallen of any consequence since March 20th."

Mr. Hunter will complete his inspection in another week which will later be followed by a summer inspection of peach trees.

TO ENLARGE HALL AT ST. CATHARINES

It is estimated that in the enlarging of the city hall and police headquarters and building a public station, the whole to cost $32,500, the government will provide about $8,000, relief labor cost, Hon. Mr. Croux approved of the city's plan and is sending a representative to look into certain minor details.

With the city's three undertakings and the government doubling up the post office and customs building, building will be more active in St. Catharines than for a decade past, no plans are out for some new houses. In spite of the depression there are few vacant houses in the city, really men say.

ROBERT BOOK, FORMER WARDEN, TAKEN FOR A RIDE BY COUNTY COUNCILLORS

Robert H. Book, former warden of Lincoln, ex-reeve of South Grimsby and popularly known as the mayor of Smithville, was kidnapped and taken for a ride last Thursday morning. That Mr. Book rather enjoyed the proceedings does not lessen the fact as stated.

Thursday morning the members of the Lincoln county council started on their second day of county road inspection, travelling via bus. At Smithville they stopped at the lumber yard operated by Mr. Book and his sons and after several had left the bus to greet the genial ex-warden. Mr. Book was invited into the bus to meet other members of the party.

The ex-warden had reached the centre of the bus on his good will tour when the vehicle started and the kidnapping proceeded. Mr. Book entered mild protests that business was rushing and needed his personal attention, but the members of the council were not to be denied the pleasure of the company of one who had been greatly admired during his several years in the council. The trip continued and about an hour later the bus again reached Smithville.

As a token of appreciation for the hour's reprieve from business, the ex-warden invited the councillors into an ice cream parlor, but there was no time to spare and so the bus continued on its way to Wellandport where dinner was waiting.

FAST GROWING CHICKS BRING QUICKER RETURNS

BUY chicks that put on weight fast. They mature earlier and begin earning money for you sooner. Bray's "Xtra-Profits" chicks are known for rapid growth—you can almost see them grow!

According to many of our customers, Bray's "Xtra-Profits" chicks grow faster and more than a pound at 5 weeks old and 2½ lbs. at 9 weeks old. And they kept right on growing through the summer months and made profitable, early laying flocks.

Take the flock of Bray pullets raised by W. A. Kirkpatrick at Burgessville last year. He had pullets weighing up to 6 lbs. 10 ounces at 6 months old—and they were giving him a 75% egg yield at that age.

The success of Bray chicks is a direct result of the careful selection of our breeding stock. Our breeders are chosen for their actual capacity for work. Bray chicks have the qualities that make for profitable poultry keeping, bred right into them. The cockerels make early broilers or heavier-than-average Fall market chickens. The pullets develop rapidly and make early, productive layers.

We don't claim that every Bray flock will be laying 75% at 6 months. But it is not out of the way to say that most flocks of "Xtra-Profits" pullets begin laying at 5 months old, and many of them are laying 50% or better at 6 months old. Stop in and get a copy of our Free booklet. See for yourself what Bray "Xtra-Profits" chicks can bring you in dollars and cents next fall.

OBITUARY

John A. Fennell

The death occurred on April 1st, in Hanna, Alberta, of Mr. John A. Fennell. Left to mourn his loss are his wife and two sons to whom he was a most devoted husband and father. Besides his immediate family, his mother and three sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Brock Snyder, Grimsby, and a younger brother, survive.

Mr. Fennell had a keen sense of humour and a ready wit, while his sterling honesty and fineness of character won for him the respect of all with whom he came in contact.

An older brother, formerly his business partner, was killed in action in France in April, 1917.

Miss Janet Ann Walker

Miss Janet Ann Walker, a highly respected native of this locality, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. Teeter, Grimsby Beach, on Tuesday. She was born in Clinton Township, 83 years ago, and had lived there until about 25 years ago, when she made her home in Beamsville. She was a staunch member of the Presbyterian Church. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. A. Bator, Beamsville and Mrs. E. Teeter of Grimsby Beach, and two brothers, Robert O. Walker of Beamsville and Murray Walker of Niagara Falls. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, April 2nd from the residence of her sister, Mrs. A. Bator, Thirty Mountain, with entombment in the Hamilton Mausoleum. Rev. Stuart Woods of Pelham, officiated. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Huntington, George Fair, H. J. Talbot, John Book, Geo. Konkle and P. Yockey.

Edith Marjorie Ransom

Edith Marjorie Ransom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Ransom, Clinton township, died at the home of her parents on Saturday morning in her 32nd year. She had been indisposed over some years. She was more than usually interested in Girl Guides' activities, and took an active part in the formation and carrying on of the local company of Guides, of which she was an officer. To mourn her early passing she leaves her parents and one brother, Fred. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at Mount Osborne cemetery, Rev. E. F. Maunsell, of St. Alban's church conducting the services.

It was decided a second meeting would be called within a week. If this meeting should approve the plan, it will be sent to Ottawa for ratification. PEARL BELLAIRS

Synopsis
Joan Denby, of humble origin, is introduced as a social equal of Miss Georgina La Fontaine, rather than as a girl who is anxious to marry well. She is introduced to the world of the la Fontaines, head of the Hannon Steel and Iron works.

Lord Edward proposes to Joan. And in a minute Piers and Joan were tearing on again through the night. The road began to climb gently at first, then steeply, until they were swinging to and fro on the long hairpins of a mountain ascent. Joan had time to accept the situation calmly. It made her furious to think that he could inflict so much discomfort on everybody by his high-handed ways. She thought she would try to enter into the spirit of the thing—tomorrow would do for letting him know what she really thought. Tonight there was a long drop over the side of the road, there was not another soul for miles, presumably, and she was decidedly nervous.

She laughed, and he glanced at her. "So this is to show me what an inconsiderate man I really like!"

"No; it's to give you a chance of explaining why you look at me as though I were a cold, bad egg!"

They were hurtling along the precipitous road, and he pulled up suddenly, saying:

"Here will do as well as anywhere."

He drew the car up at the side of the road, switched off the headlights and turned on the light on the dashboard; then settling himself back in his seat he turned to look at her with mocking eyes. She tried to appear nonchalant, but she was trembling a little, even though she was amused.

"Well? What is the matter with me?" he asked.

Waiting, he lighted a cigarette, and when, under his amused eyes, she still hesitated, he said:

"Perhaps you would find it easier to explain to me in the dark."

He switched out the light on the dashboard.

"It might not be dislike for you which makes me—do you assert—" look rather doubtful about you," said Joan faintly, at last. She was determined not to say that she liked him, at the same time she knew it would only amuse him now if she told him how ill she thought of him. But some other time—later—such a revelation might teach him a lesson!

The thing to do was to evade the question if she could.

"I might be uncertain about you. It might be that I never know quite how to take you, never know when you're joking or when you are in earnest," she explained it in as reasonable a tone as possible, and she little knew how disarming her quiet voice was.

"Do I believe that?" he asked, musingly.

He was silent, and Joan, fancying that he was a little disappointed by her compromise, had time to look about her. They were very high up and the mountain tops were outlined faintly against the stars; there was a deep valley below filled with dark and the sound of trickling water. It was very quiet, and warm, so warm that Joan threw open the great leather coat she was wearing. Poor Lord Edward! She was thinking. What would he think of her believing that she had gone off willingly in the middle of his proposal? Oh, but she would be even with this captor of hers as soon as she was safely out of his hands!

She heard Piers Hannon laugh suddenly in the dark; he stopped and said:

"I can smell daphne."

She was surprised at a man of his type being able to recognize that sweet scent.

"I have a piece on my frock," she said.

"I like it, I'll have it."

"I'll have it!" she mimicked. "Seriously, why should you?"

For answer he switched on the light on the dashboard; his face purposeful, his eyes attempting to look as grim as the rest of him, he leaned over and would have taken her daphne from its place where it was pinned on her shoulder, had she not forestalled him. With a certain breathlessness, a twinge of very real fear, she detached the little sprig of pink flowered laurel herself, and gave it to him. He took it and put it to his nostrils, looking at her; her hands quivered a little as she drew the coat more closely about her; she was ashamed of her moment of terror and more exasperated than ever by him.

"Do you want it?" he asked quizzically.

For answer she turned her face slightly away.

"Will you thank me nicely for it?" he asked, and when she still said nothing, he added: "Thank me nicely for it, or I'll throw it out of the car."

What We Eat

When times are bad and purses are light, Canadians turn to pork for their meat diet, but when times are better they return to beef, according to the Dominion bureau of statistics. During the worst of the depression years the per capita consumption of pork ran from 83 pounds in 1931 to 74 in 1933 and beef from 57 to 56. But in 1934, when things were better, the consumption of pork fell to 66 pounds and beef rose to 68. It was the first year since the depression set in that the Canadian people ate more beef than pork. It was evident that, while pork might have been dearer in the worst years, they could make it go farther. Canadians eat comparatively little mutton and lamb. The per capita consumption is only six or seven lbs. And yet lamb and mutton, next to fowl, is the best meat to eat.

WHAT DOES YOUR HANDWRITING REVEAL?

(Editor's Note: Hundreds of these to whom Mr. St. Clair has sent a character analysis have written in to express their pleasure at his accuracy. And he has helped many in solving their personal problems. See his invitation to you following this week's article.)

—O—

Mrs. L. R. writes as follows: "I am a widow with two children, and have been corresponding with a man from the West. He wishes to marry me, and although I have never seen him, his letters are so pleasant that I find myself drawn to him. He is married, but has not lived with his wife for some years, and offers to get a divorce if I accept his offer of marriage. I feel that I should remarry, because I am still young, but I naturally don't want to make a mistake. My first marriage was very happy, and my husband left me a substantial sum of money. Any help you can give me in showing what I think my correspondent is really like will be welcome."

I am sorry that I cannot be overly optimistic about your chances of making a really favourable marriage with the man who is writing to you. He is not generous—he is, as a matter of fact, of rather a narrow viewpoint; not really broadminded.

He is likely to get very irritable, if not bad tempered and whilst a lot of us have that little trait allied as it is in this case with narrowness of mind it shows that this man is not easy to live with.

He is rather changeable, too. He will be inconsistent, not at all stable, temperamentally, but fickle in his moods. It would be difficult to understand him at times.

Another characteristic that stands out in his letter to you when he remarks on the number of lady friends that he has had, and whilst he is endeavouring to convey a subtle compliment to you, in that he prefers you to all the others, this also shows conceit. And his handwriting bears this out very clearly.

I mentioned that he is not very generous. I would go further and say that he is economical and cautious to the point of parsimony.

An Orderly Dog

Edmonton Journal — Occasionally observes the Edmonton Journal, there come from our courts proceedings that are out of the ordinary but that immediately commend themselves to the good sense of the community.

Such a one emanated from the Calgary Police Court the other day and reveals Magistrate H. G. Scott in a Solomonic light. He ruled that a dog going in orderly fashion to the butcher shop to get his daily ration, according to his regular custom cannot be declared to be wandering at large. Under this ruling, a charge against one John Riddock of violating a city by-law was dismissed.

Riddock admitted his dog was about a block from his house without being under immediate restraint. He explained however, that the 12-year-old Alredale was in the habit of going daily to a nearby butcher shop for a bone and on the occasion cited a Wednesday afternoon, the dog forgot about the butcher shop being closed for the half holiday and was standing barking at the door when observed by the police constable. Such a dog could not be described as "wandering at large," the court held. He was in lawful pursuit of his business and might be described as a purposeful dog.

"You might warn him about the early closing bylaw," the magistrate advised Riddock, a remark which says the report was greeted with laughter. But why?

An intelligent dog would soon realize that his butcher shop had two "Sundays" a week, and being a purposeful and orderly dog, would act accordingly. Undoubtedly on this occasion he was not itching his butcher to a branch of the Wednesday closing bylaw. He, as his master explained, just forgot. Even humans do that, as witness the appearance of a tin of pork and beans for Wednesday evening dinners.

Women Should Be Drafted For War

Cleveland—Amelia Earhart, noted aviatrix, believes women should be drafted for war just the same as men.

"Women should be used behind the lines, doing anything that able-bodied women can do," Miss Earhart said.

The aviatrix emphasized she did not wish to convey the idea that she believes in war, but that in her own case she would want to fly a fighting plane if the United States were attacked.

FRIENDS OF THE CROW DENOUNCE EFFORTS FOR HIS EXTERMINATION

(From the Chicago Daily News.)

The Illinois Department of Conservation is making war on crows. Its bombers boast of slaughtering 150,000 since the first of the year, and hope to kill 200,000 more by spring. When Mother Nature balances her accounts with these violent conservationists they may not be so proud. She has a way of demonstrating the wisdom of her own order that frequently has made her human revisionists appear very foolish.

There are two major counts in the indictment of the crow. He helps himself to the farmer's grain with an almost insulting bravado, and he kills the young of our lovely songbirds. We fear that a verdict of "guilty" must be rendered on both those counts. But there is something to be said in mitigation of his offenses.

Against his thefts of grain should be set his insatiable appetite for field mice and other small mammals, for insects and cutworms. One authority declares that he "amply repays the farmer for what he takes by destroying the vermin in the fields." Fewer crows, more mice and cutworms—no nature, may take toll for man's interference.

It is less easy to palliate the crow's criminal assaults on the nests of other birds, but many ornithologists hold that murderous offense is rare—much rarer, probably, than man's violence to members of his own species. Possibly the human race should be exterminated—some pessimistic philosophers have suggested as much—but the majority is still opposed to a remedy so drastic.

Generally the crow is conceded to be the most intelligent of birds. Captured when young he soon becomes fearlessly familiar with human folk. He is discriminating, picking whom he will for company, and raucously scolding those he dislikes. Always he remains a rascal, a lovable rascal, cockily independent and impudently predatory.

Only a mind insensitive to nature's moods could look unmoved upon the etched beauty of the scene when, as the setting sun hangs on the dark edge of the distant woods, the crows come cawing from the fields in flock formation to merge with the mystery of the lengthening shadows. Some of us would spare them for the sake of that thrill. But a more practical defense on the part they play in the economy of nature with which man meddles at his peril.

GIRL GUIDES

Australian Writer Asks More Sympathy For Movement. — Suggests Change In Uniforms.

An appeal for more public appreciation of the Girl Guide movement and suggestions for changes in the uniform to make it more attractive and comfortable at various climates are made by "Vesta," women's editor of The Melbourne Argus, following the recent visit of the Chief Scout and Chief Guide, Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, and the various celebrations in Australia.

The article says: "Why is it the Girl Guides have failed to evoke the sympathy and enthusiasm that has been poured out on springing on the Scouts? Why is it they find it difficult to obtain an adequate number of suitable Guides?"

"It is not enough to say that the Guide movement is younger than the Scouts. It has to be admitted that the movement in Australia has not even begun to rouse any fervid sentiment in the public at large, and that women generally have still to be convinced of its value to the individuals composing it and to the community outside."

The Australian writer declares those who have been responsible for the building up of the Guide organization have had to meet a strong though silent opposition due to the persistence of the idea that girls should spend as much of their time as possible in their own homes, and that anything, except school, that takes them out of their homes is likely to have a bad influence on them.

"Notwithstanding the fact that many forms of recreation and pleasure do in any case take girls frequently out of their homes, and notwithstanding the fine moral influence that the Guide precepts and laws should exercise, this objection is still frequently met with and persisted in, however reasonably and logically it may be answered," the article says.

"Personally, I was much disappointed that with so many Guides gathered together here, there was no occasion on which the public could see them in their strength, independently of the boys. My own impression was that the various companies of Guides are kept too busy sight-seeing in addition to their camp activities."

The Argus women's editor declares: "The present uniform is in many cases neither becoming nor neat, so that it is impossible to regard it with much pride. It is most unsuitable, too, in our hot weather, which calls for something light in color as well as light in weight. I understand that it is permissible to use lightweight materials in summer; but navy blue is a color which does not look well in thin, cheap materials, and a Guide uniform must be inexpensive."

The writer observed that "some of the Australian women Cubmasters looked very well in their pleated khaki skirts and blouses, and some shade of dark fawn might be found practical for Guides."

"Not all countries have adopted the navy blue uniform, so that there is no reason why we should adhere to it," the editor says. "The black stockings worn with it, too, are both hot and ugly; and I am sure that the movement would benefit if some uniform more becoming and more adapted to our climate could be devised. A normal girl likes to look her best, and it would probably be found easier to obtain Guides also if they were not asked to assume a uniform which few of them really like."

Duchess Of Kent "Sweetest Girl One Could Wish To Know"

Miss Florence Forrest, of Port Hope, Ontario, who has been in Jamaica all winter the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Lewis Emery, Jr., had the honor of being invited by the Duke and Duchess of Kent for luncheon at "Sunset Lodge" where they have been spending their honeymoon. "Sunset Lodge" is the attractive bungalow which is chateau. Mrs. Emery put—with its staff of servants—at the command of the Royal couple.

Writing to her mother in Port Hope, Miss Forrest describes the Duchess of Kent as "extremely beautiful and wonderfully charming—just the sweetest girl one could wish to know." Of the Duke of Kent she said: "He is tall and fair, has curly hair and blue eyes and not at all staid. His pictures seem to make him." They made her very much at home, said this young woman who was called to the Bar in September last, and will upon her return take up the practice of law.

Milk and Water

WATER.
For real success with poultry plenty of fresh water is absolutely necessary. The fact that the body of a hen contains from 65% to 60% and the egg about 65% of water indicates its necessity. Chicks gain in weight very rapidly and much of this gain is due to the increase in water in their make up, hence an adequate supply of water is of supreme importance in poultry feeding. Lack of water soon results in lowered egg production; in fact the lack of water will cause disease and equally as fast as starvation.
Water helps to regulate the body temperature by evaporation through the lungs and air sacs. Just here I might remind the reader of the fact that neither chicks nor laying hens relish ice cream or cold drinks.
Ice cold water lowers the temperature of the body, it chills and tends to hold up egg production. The intelligent dairy farmer does not give his milkers ice cold water, neither does a kindly spirited fellow give his horse in the morning a bit frost-filled, no, he plunges it in water first. Why then give your hens ice cold drinks and quench the laying incentive. Let them enjoy plenty of fresh tepid water.

MILK.
Contented investigation and experiments have shown that there are certain unknown quantities in feeds which give them the power to make the young animal grow. These obscure properties have been termed vitamins, and what is of special interest to all poultry feeders is the fact that they are found in the yolks of eggs, in the green leafy part of plants and in milk. These vitamins are designated by the letters of the alphabet: A, B, C, D, E. Vitamin A has been termed the growth promoter. Young chicks deprived of vitamin A will not grow. The lack of it in the feed results in lowered egg production and hatch-ability.

It is extremely fortunate for the farmer that Milk is one of the easily accessible sources of vitamins. Vitamin A in a given volume of milk is about equally divided between the fat globules and the aqueous portions. This means that skimmed milk contains about half as much vitamin A as whole milk and is about one-third as rich in vitamin A as is butter fat. Thus skimmed milk is an important source of vitamin A.
Dried milk is also an important source of vitamin A. During the first eighteen hours in the brooder keep a constant supply of sour skim milk before your chicks. The second day in the brooder continue with the sour skim milk and from the third day to the seventh begin keeping a fresh water supply before them. Continue this until the middle of the third week, yes, and throughout the whole of the rearing period the skim milk is most beneficial. Buttermilk, if available, is probably as good and, if neither skim milk nor buttermilk is available, milk products such as milk albumin, milk powder or what is called semi-solid butter milk may be used.

Semi-solid buttermilk is buttermilk dried to the consistency of cream, which is diluted with water when used.
Of course young chicks retain the liquid milk; it stimulates their appetites and they grow. Experiments have proven the sour milk preferable as it is more easily digested and containing lactic acid is somewhat more palatable; it acts also as an internal disinfectant.

One who knows, says: "Feed milk liberally as a beverage and supplement with powdered buttermilk."

HINTS

HOUSING YOUR CHICKS

Keep the chicks in the shipping boxes in a room free from draughts or extremes of heat and cold until the evening of the day they arrive.
Do not put the chicks under the brooder until after dark, and handicapped to avoid injury. By waiting until evening they will remain quiet over night and by morning will be accustomed to their new quarters, whereas if placed under the brooder during the day they become nervous and excited and often crowd to the corners and are crushed to death.
Maintain temperature of 82 degrees for a few days, then reduce gradually.

A FEW DON'T'S

Do not feed chicks at all until the chicks are at least 48 hours old.
Do not feed any table scraps or meat scraps to chicks.
Do not feed hard boiled eggs.
Do not overfeed chick scratch.
Do not use metal containers when feeding milk.
When chicks are 48 hours old give them warm water in drinking fountains and sprinkle a little clean bird sand or chick grit on papers or boards. Make sure each chick gets a drink. Keep them warm and comfortable. Protect from disturbance and draught.
Wait 4 to 6 hours after giving the water and sand, then place Blatchford's Chick Mash before the birds.
